

Exhibit #1

MENDEZ CENTER

LIVING ROOM The families of Mendez v Westminster

A FAMILY ROOM

Each visitor will begin their journey exploring a living space similar to the time period of the Mendez family. A wall with family portraits that display the diversity of ethnic and cultural backgrounds will provide the visitor with a well rounded perspective that the Mendez v. Westminster was not just a Latin community issue, but one that encompassed a diversity of people from different places. The room will showcase multimedia as well as interactive activity featuring the Mendez documentary.

EMPATHY BEINGS HERE.

A silhouette is de-selected in strategically positioned frames and replaced with a reflection of a mirror. The visitor will be able to literally put themselves in the portrait establishing an empathetic perspective.

HOT SPOTS.

There will be several interactive and multimedia stations where visitors can engage in the daily life similar to the Mendez family as well as the other families involved. Some stations will be a Q&A with touch sensitive screens and others will be a video on a loop of the Mendez documentary.
